MENTAL WELLNESS MOMENT

Greetings fellow parishioners. This is a time when we face our humanity fully. It is a time when we remember those we have lost and those who served for our security and freedom. May we offer prayers for their eternal rest. May we recognize the Common Humanity of grief – we all experience this – Blessed Mary, the Saints, even Jesus. It is part of common humanity to grieve, to allow our sorrow at loss to be acknowledged, to allow our hearts to break open with tolerance or love and gratitude for those lost. Might we allow our emotions to "just be" without harsh judgement, but rather with acknowledgement of our humanity. When ready, might we lovingly release our emotions to the Universe, which is large enough to hold them all for us – no need to carry this alone. Might we allow our hearts to fill with love and gratitude for the blessings we have of those around us. May we pause and give ourselves the kindness we need, breathing, saying heartfelt prayers, touching into the beauty of fall and giving ourselves the gift of self-care as needed. May we all keep the light of faith, of love, lit – perhaps with a small ritual candle, favourite rosary, favourite Bible, favourite prayer – giving ourselves the gift of time to rest in our faith and allowing our hearts to ease. As we arrive at the end of November, we enter Advent. What a lovely transition period to prepare for the Joy of the Birth of Jesus and all that means to us. May our transition into this be made with love, kindness and as much ease as possible. St. Augustine's Mental Health Ministry
